

The Centre for Sound Communities in collaboration with ACENET presents:

DIGITAL HUMANITIES WORKSHOP

May 1st –2nd , 2018

Location: The Centre for Sound Communities

- Is Advanced Computing For Me?
- Research Data Management
- Cloud Powering Digital Humanities Research

This free, two day event will feature discussions, learning and hands on workshops demonstrating how new technologies are influencing teaching, research, dissemination, creation and preservation in the humanities and social sciences. The event will be led by experts from ACENET (Advanced Computing Research in Atlantic Canada) and CBU Library. Nutrition breaks and lunches will be provided. For program details visit this github page.

Presentations are open to everyone. There are limited spaces for the workshop. Please register online with this Registration Form using your @cbu.ca email address.

For more information contact: sound_communities@cbu.ca